Reward Offer Extension in the Murder of David Matthewis

On May 23, 2013 at approximately 11:25 a.m., 23-year old David Matthewis was shot while walking his bicycle eastbound along the south curb on the 1000 block of Elm Street in the City of Compton. David was returning home after escorting his girlfriend to her residence. First responders from the Compton Fire Department rendered aid to David. He was then transported to St. Francis Medical Center where he succumbed to his injury.

On July 15, 2014, the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors voted to establish a reward for $10,000 related to the apprehension and/or conviction of the person or persons responsible for David's murder. The reward called for individuals to provide information to the appropriate law enforcement agency by October 13, 2014. As of this date, David's murder investigation remains open.

Detectives from the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, Homicide Bureau recommend that it would be helpful to extend this reward offer to allow witnesses
